THE TRANSFIGURATION OF THE LORD

While he was still speaking, behold, a bright cloud cast a shadow over them, then from the cloud came a voice that said, "This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased; listen to him." - Mt 17:5

Parish Health Notes:

We're Going Back To School

Back-to-School Health Tips.

After a long summer break, it's time for the kids to head back to school and focus on classes, sports and other after-school activities. But as you get adjusted to the first month of school, it's a good idea to take a couple of precautionary measures to set them up for a safe, healthy year. Here are some back-to-school health tips to consider.

- 1. Teach good hygiene habits-With so many people around, germs are bound to be lurking in classrooms. To help your kids avoid getting sick (and prevent them from bringing germs home), it's important to show them how to protect themselves. Teach them to wash their hands after using the restroom and before going to lunch or eating a snack. It may be smart to provide your children with on-the-go hand sanitizer to use when washing their hands isn't convenient. You should also instruct them not to share food or drinks with other kids.
- 2. Stock up on healthy foods-It might be easy to pack your kids' lunches with premade snacks, but a healthy diet is of the utmost importance, and junk foods don't fit into the equation. Make it easier for yourself by stocking up on healthy foods like fruits, vegetables, whole grain bread and lean protein like turkey. Take a few minutes during the weekend to cut up fruits and vegetables and prepare things like tuna salad or hard-boiled eggs for convenience in the morning, and buy plenty of containers for nutritious dinner leftovers. Consider getting a small ice pack and an insulated lunch bag to allow more variety.
- 3. Manage stress-Back-to-school season is stressful for kids and parents alike, but too much stress can lead to a variety of health issues, like insomnia and sluggish immune systems. Help manage stress by talking to your children about anything that's bothering them, and take care not to overload anyone's schedule, including your own. Schoolwork and after-school activities are important, but it's also essential to take time to relax, play and spend time as a family.

Annual Appeal—The current Diocesan Annual Appeal came to a close on June 30th. Thank you for your generosity! This has been a time of transition for the Annual Appeal. The next Annual Appeal will begin in October. Any donations received between now and October will be applied to the next Annual Appeal

Hello!! We celebrate the transfiguration. One line from the Gospel that always catches me is when

Peter says...Lord, it is good that we are here...can we be open to see differently and can we be grateful for what we see? So often a first reaction can be one of skepticism or criticism. The expression of gratitude can be powerful.

Another line from this gospel that I find impressive is when the disciples fall down and are afraid. Jesus touches them, reassures them, helps them up and tells them to not be afraid. We are called to be Jesus with skin in the here and now. Who can you lift up and reassure?

We are baptized into Jesus' death and resurrection. Jesus' ultimate act of touching, reassuring and lifting us up is by his death and resurrection. It is good that we are here!!!

I am looking forward to this fall with a real sense of anticipation. Among other things, I would like to delve into the area of some Marriage Enrichment Activities. I also would like to grow our Parish RCIA process where we journey with those seeking to join the Catholic Church. Stay tuned. It is good that we are here.

Peace and all good things,

Fr. Todd
